

Psychoanalysis, the Tyranny of Objectivism, and the Rebellion of the Subjective

- 1) Explain what the authors does in the abstract and how this structures the paper
- 2) What is the aim of the paper?
- 3) Which is the perspective on the work in the social sciences the author rejects and on which grounds is this rejection stated?
- 4) How has objectivism affected psychology?
- 5) What is the role patients play in the author's analysis and which are the cases that prove this point? Write about each case in detail
- 6) Why does the author establish a link between different events which are central to American history and psychoanalysis?
- 7) Why was this paper written?