

Attachment Theory and Research:
Implications for Psychodynamic Psychotherapy (Diciembre 2017)

Part 1: State the information the authors give when they:

- 1) State the centrality of their research topic
- 2) Relate the gaps in this research topic with the aims of their study
- 3) Explain Bowlby's theory and Ainsworth's research paradigm

Part 2: State the information the authors give when they:

- 4) Discuss the empirical literature on adult attachment classifications following two traditions (compare and contrast the main two authors presented in each of these traditions)
- 5) Enumerate the contributions of attachment theory to psychotherapy
- 6) Describe the research findings by exemplifying the two types of patients

Part 3: Answer these questions:

- 7) What do all the attachment-based interventions have in common?
- 8) How do the authors' conclusions relate to the gaps in research on attachment theory and the aims of their study presented in the first section of the article?

Nota: El paper incluía desde el inicio hasta la pag. 405 y luego de la pag. 411 hasta el final. El intervalo entre 405 y 411 fue removido del examen.