Affective Instability as a Clinical Feature of Avoidant Personality Disorder
(1er llamado Marzo 2019)

1. What is the role of context in this research study? How does it relate to the age factor in it?

2. Explain the colour-in-context theory. Provide examples.

3. Mention at least three gaps in research on the topic and explain how the authors have addressed each of them in this study.

4. Describe the final samples used for the study and explain the exclusions that were made.

5. Describe the stimuli used for the study and explain how they were created. Include the adjustments made for age reasons.

6. How did the researchers carry out the interviews in order to obtain a ranking of the colour association of each participant for each of the items?

7. Provide an example of:

   a) a colour association made only by children

   b) one made only by adults

   c) one made by both children and adults

8. Mention the hypothesis of the authors with respect to the different findings of their research work

9. Mention and explain the limitations of this study and their possible consequences.

10. Mention the recommendations that the authors suggest for future research on this topic.
