1. Identify the genre and mention: a) three features of this genre, and b) the context of situation for this text

2. Briefly explain the findings about gender differences the authors present in the introduction

3. How do the results summarized in 2 (above) contrast with findings regarding sex differences in social aspects of the self?

4. Compare and contrast independent self-construal and interdependent self-construal

5. What do Baumeister & Leary maintain in connection with the need to belong?

6. What kinds of interdependence do the authors distinguish? Why is this distinction relevant for their hypothesis and proposal?

7. Explain the socialization perspective on gender differences.

8. What was predicted by the expanded model of gender and interdependence? Did empirical evidence prove the prediction right? Mention an example of empirical evidence that supports this prediction.

9. How does empirical evidence corroborate that relational