

An Examination of the Relationship Between Intrusions at Work and Employee Strain (1° llamado- diciembre 2015)

Del paper no iba la parte de: Control Variables, Results, las tablas 2 y 3 de la discusión, Contributions y References

Preguntas del examen

1. State the topic of the article and account for its relevance in today's working world.
2. What forms can interruptions take? Define each of them.
3. Describe Zijlstra et al.'s (1999) study and its limitations.
4. Mention three gaps in research on the topic.
5. What is the aim of the article?
6. In what way are emotions and self-regulatory resources related to the topic of the article?
7. Explain Cognitive Fatigue Model and its relations to intrusions.
8. Which are the strain outcomes mentioned?
9. How was the sample of the study obtained? What were the characteristics of the people who participated?
10. What are the results of the study?
11. What limitations and lines of future research do the authors mention?
12. Which are the practical implications of the present study?