

Preguntas del examen

Section A: State the information the authors give when they:

1. Indicate the problem they are trying to solve in this research area and the evidence that motivated their study/research
2. Present their research purpose
3. Explain the people involved in their research. Describe each group.
4. Justify the contributions of their study to the topic they are reporting in this article

Section B: in this section:

5. Mention the hypothesis the authors had for their research
6. Summarize the main results of this study in relation to the hypothesis the authors had for their research
7. Explain mentalization-based treatment
8. Relate the weaknesses of this research with future research on this topic
9. Write the conclusion regarding the relation between prototypical processes and psychological distress in psychodynamic therapy in borderline personality disorder (as studied in this research)